Longstanding commitment to workplace inclusivity and diversity continues to set the benchmark in the tech industry

Thoughtworks, a global technology consultancy that integrates strategy, design and engineering to drive digital innovation, has been named "Best Company to Work For" in Thailand for the second consecutive year in the 2021 edition of the annual 'The HR Asia Best Companies to Work for in Asia' Awards.

The win reinforces Thoughtworks' sustained momentum as a leading employer in Thailand in the technology industry category with the company also certified as a 'Great Place to Work' by research and consulting firm Great Place to Work® in June this year.

The 'HR Asia Best Companies to Work for in Asia' awards are helmed by HR Asia, the leading publication for senior talent professionals. The awards' stringent selection process includes a robust employee survey, which thoroughly evaluates the organization's leadership, levels of motivation, team dynamics and workplace sentiment. With its longstanding commitment to creating positive environments within the tech space with the provision of equal opportunities as well as ample support to empower holistic growth, Thoughtworks continues to remain ahead of the curve in these key areas.

"We are thrilled to have once again received this award. At Thoughtworks, we believe that diversity and inclusivity in tech is central to bringing the best forms of innovation to life," said Pete Chemsripong, general manager of Thoughtworks Thailand. "While this award has affirmed that Thoughtworks is on the right track, we are determined to keep building and reinforcing these positive spaces to ensure our teams have the resources to reach their full potential."
